BIOHABITATS HAS CONTRIBUTED TO:

- » 10 AIA COTE Top Ten Awards projects
- » 6 Living Buildings certified projects
(+9 in design, construction, or certification phase)
- » 2 SITES certified projects
- » 28 LEED Platinum projects

LIVING BUILDING CHALLENGE (LBC), LIVING COMMUNITY CHALLENGE (LCC), & NET ZERO WATER (NZW) EXPERIENCE

- » PAE Living Building, Portland, OR (full LBC 3.0) construction / role: design & engineering of rain harvesting, greywater treatment and reuse, resource recovery systems
- » Aegis Lake-Union Senior Housing, Seattle, WA (Seattle LBC pilot program) construction / role: lead design & engineering rainwater harvest & greywater reuse infrastructure
- » Loom House, Bainbridge Island, WA (full LBC 3.0) certification phase, complete 2019 / role: design & engineering of rain harvesting and wastewater treatment and reuse systems
- » Kendeda Building for Innovative Sustainable Design at Georgia Tech, Atlanta, GA (full LBC 3.0) certification phase, complete 2019 / role: lead design & engineering of water infrastructure
- » The Willow School: Health, Wellness & Nutrition Center, Gladstone, NJ (full LBC 2.0) certified 2017 / role: rainwater harvest & reuse
- » The Morris & Gwendolyn Cafritz Foundation Environmental Center at Hard Bargain Farm, Operated by Alice Ferguson Foundation, Accokeek, MD (full LBC 2.0) certified 2017 / role: lead design & engineering of greywater system
- » Brock Environmental Center, Pleasure House Point, VA (full LBC 2.0) certified 2016 / area: rain to potable water infrastructure; role: peer review & permitting; AIA COTE Top Ten-2017
- » Dixon Water Foundation, Dixon, TX (full LBC 2.0) certified 2016 / role: design & engineering of stormwater & wastewater infrastructure; AIA COTE Top Ten-2016
- » Bullitt Foundation, Seattle, WA (full LBC 2.0) certified 2015 / role: concept design, peer review & operational optimization of water infrastructure; AIA COTE Top Ten-2015
- » The Summit: Village Treehouse, Fayette County, WV (full LBC 2.0) complete 2013 / role: concept design & peer review of water infrastructure; AIA COTE Top Ten-2014
- » Omega Center for Sustainable Living, Rhinebeck, NY (full LBC 1.0) certified 2010 / role: lead design & engineering of wastewater infrastructure AIA COTE Top Ten-2010
- » Yellowstone Youth Center, Gardiner, WY (full LBC 2.0) design phase / role: lead design & engineering of water infrastructure
- » Gaia Building, Los Angeles, CA (full LBC 3.1) design phase / role: lead design & engineering of water infrastructure
- » Sage School, Haley, ID, CA (full LBC 3.1) design phase / role: lead design & engineering of water infrastructure
- » Santa Monica City Services Building, Santa Monica, CA (full LBC 3.0) under construction / role: technical assistance with water infrastructure
- » Yale Divinity School, New Haven, CT (LCC) design phase / role: master planning of water infrastructure
- » Smokey Mountain Institute, Townsend, TN (LCC) design phase / role: master planning of water infrastructure
- » Academy for Global Citizenship, Chicago, IL design phase / role: lead design and engineering water infrastructure
- » 76 Building, Albany, NY design phase / role: lead design and engineering water infrastructure
- » The Highlands, Grand Rapids, MI design phase / role: water master planning

AIA COTE TOP TEN

The Committee On The Environment (COTE)[®] Top Ten Awards is the architecture industry's best-known award program for sustainable design excellence and recognizes performance over intentions. Each year, the American Institute of Architects recognizes ten innovative projects for their integration of design excellence with environmental performance. Project teams are encouraged to submit projects for which performance and occupant satisfaction data are available for a period of 12 months or more with at least 75% occupancy. The measures and metrics emphasize the importance of actual performance in addition to design intent. The awards program exists to teach the successes of the very best projects and to advance the entire profession to realize our shared vision of a zero carbon, equitable future.
